Luxury Hotels Group to host the Women in Travel (WINiT) European Networking Event

Category: Hotel Created on Friday, 12 February 2016 11:15

Luxury Hotels Group is delighted to host the WINiT European conference and networking event at the Montcalm London Marble Arch on February 22nd, 2016. With various travel managers and UK hotels in attendance – with Craig Kreeger, Chief Executive, Virgin Atlantic Airways, as Keynote Speaker for their European half-day Conference in London in conjunction with the Business Travel Show - the inspiring half-day conference will deliver discussions on negotiating skills and dealing with challenging people.

This is an exceptional opportunity to debate and take away resources on key issues in the industry. Networking will follow the conference, with drinks and canapés from 5 to 7pm.

As well as captivating speakers contributing their insight into the industry, a variety of luxury hotels, resorts and serviced apartment providers will be exhibiting during the networking event. At your disposal will be The Montcalm Luxury Hotels, Nadler Hotels, the Royal Horseguards Hotel, Lafodia Sea Resort, City Marque, Tangla Hotels & Resorts, Derby Hotels Collection and, of course, Luxury Hotels Group.

Women in Travel is a network of both men and women supporting, educating and changing perceptions of women in the event and travel industries. In conjunction with the Business Travel Show 2016 – Europe's largest event for buyers and managers of business travel, this is WINiT's second European networking event. Judging by their European debut last year, also in partnership with Luxury Hotels Group, this promises to be an event to remember.

Luxury Hotels Group, which specialises in bespoke business generation and full service digital solutions for upscale independent hotels with a collection of over 150 luxury properties worldwide, selected the Grand Ballroom at the Montcalm as the setting for this prestigious event, with its contemporary style, cutting edge AV and central London location.
